

Consultancy

- Platform strategy If you are wondering about using Free and Open Source Software, we can advise on the pros and cons based on experience of many migration projects from inception to ongoing support.
- Building services (electrical and communications) If you plan a new building or want to upgrade your present office and would like advice or information about IT infrastructure, Blue Light can help.
- Software consultancy We offer software consultancy which includes assessing your software needs then identifying risks, solution options, project requirements, training needs and costs.
- Hardware consultancy If you want to buy hardware we can advise, based on ongoing experience and researching new products and industry trends.
- IT strategy and change management If you are considering overhauling your IT infrastructure – Linux servers, databases, hosting, websites, n-tier applications etc. – we are here to talk with you.